

Literacy learning

The children are developing a life-long love of reading. They read fiction and non-fiction texts, rhymes, poems and songs together. They learn to de-code and recognise familiar printed words. They learn to write, spell and articulate their ideas through speech and writing.

